

Big Win in Stations as Management Agrees to Release AVA's

JUNE 17 — Stations' availability stats have been climbing since the worst of the pandemic, when many of our co-workers were quarantined or sick.

In spite of the sacrifices made every day by our workforce, management was adamant that they would continue to place a hold on AVA's

That changed today when your leadership challenged management directly. We asserted our contractual and legal rights — and we can now report that as of this coming Monday, June 22, your AVA's requests will be honored.
