

HONORING SUPER STORM SANDY SERVICE

NYS AFL-CIO & WDI

“Helping people understand what we do.”

- The Workforce Development Institute (WDI) and the NYS AFL-CIO are documenting the role of union members, workers and volunteers in addressing the devastation of Super Storm Sandy.
- WDI's unseenamericaNYS program has a long history of offering photography and writing workshops across New York State. WDI has hosted exhibits in schools, universities; city, union and town halls; museums and commercial spaces.
- WDI is collecting photographs of the devastation caused by Sandy and the reconstruction efforts of workers and volunteers. These photographs and stories will become part of WDI's permanent archive and be available to be shared.
- WDI is also collecting stories of how Sandy has affected New Yorkers and what we are all doing to help our neighbors.
- All are encouraged to submit their photographs and stories to WDI at photos@wdiny.org.
- This winter WDI will create exhibits to be hosted in NYC and Albany.
- WDI is committed to protecting the integrity of each submission and giving credit to those who contribute to this collection. We are all artists and creative members of our communities.
- Please send your photographs and stories to photos@wdiny.org. You will receive an automatic thank you notice via a return email with a link to a License of Rights and photo description form. To protect the integrity of your work these forms MUST be completed, signed and mailed or faxed to Susan Hains before WDI can exhibit your photo(s).

- In early 2013 WDI will curate exhibits in NYC and Albany of selected photographs which will compellingly tell the story of Sandy and the dedication of New York's public & private workers, as well as highlight the strength and resilience of all New Yorkers.
- In early 2013 WDI will host writing workshops for those who want help telling the story of Sandy in their own words. Dates and locations will be announced in December.
- More information is available on the WDI website www.wdiny.org and on the Workforce Development Institute's Facebook page at www.facebook.com/wdiny.
